Game 36 • Riverside Rebels vs. Palm Springs POWER

Friday, July 12 • Palm Springs, CA

Probable Starters

	Adam Quintana	Keaton Hernandez
Record:	N/A	5-0
ERA:	N/A	2.22
SO:	N/A	45
IP:	N/A	44.2

8-15, 3-11 (SCCBL) — 31-4, 15-3 (SCCBL)

Keat's Bringing the Heat

Keaton Hernandez takes the mound tonight for his fifth start of the summer. In seven appearances overall, the right-hander is 4-0 with a 1.38 ERA, seven runs allowed and 29 strikeouts in 26 inning pitched. In his last outing, Hernandez lasted into the seventh inning, allowing two runs on two hits and striking out seven in a no-decision. The runs against the right-hander stopped his scoreless streak at 24 innings. The POWER have enjoyed success in Hernandez's outings this summer, posting a 7-0 record in games in which he has appeared.

Recapping the Rebels

The Riverside Rebels enter play tonight 8-15 overall, and reside in the bottom of the SCCBL-standings with a 3-11 league record. The two-game set will conclude the season series as well as the POWER's league schedule. On Tuesday, Palm Springs busted out the big bats in a 15-3 win, marking the team's second-highest offensive output of the season. The POWER followed that up with an 8-7, walk-off victory on Wednesday to improve to 4-0 against the Rebels this season. With their 3-11 league record, Riverside has been mathematically eliminated from the playoff race.

Playoff Picture

With two league games remaining, the POWER have clinched a playoff spot but are still looking to lock up the top seed and home-field advantage in the postseason. The POWER control their own destiny and can claim the top spot by winning one of their next two games against the Riverside Rebels. If Palm Springs loses both games to Riverside, it can still capture the first seed if the Long Beach Legends lose any of their final league games. If the POWER lose their final two SCCBL contests and the Legends win all of their final league games, the POWER would enter the playoffs as the second seed and concede home-field advantage to Long Beach.

PALM SPRINGS POWER BASEBALL

Double-Dip in San Diego
The POWER wrapped up their road slate yesterday by splitting a doubleheader with Team San Diego. Palm Springs dropped the first contest, 5-2, before staging a late rally to win 5-4 in game two. The POWER also split their first doubleheader of 2013 against the Long Beach Legends, stumbling 4-3 in game one before rebounding with a 4-0 win in game two. Historically the POWER have fared extremely well in doubleheaders under Harry Gurley, compiling a15-3 record since 2009. Dating back further to 2005, Palm Springs is 32-8 in twin bills, including an 8-0 mark in 2006.

Keeping Up with the Jones'
After hitting a historic home run in Tuesday's game, Ryan Jones has continued writing his name in the POWER record books this week. Jones cracked a solo shot in the top of the seventh for his fifth dinger of the summer, tying him with Matt Weston (2005) and Josh Manzano (2009) for the most home runs hit in a single-season. On Tuesday, the Ventura-native became the all-time franchise leader in home runs, passing the old mark of seven set by Kyle Walton (2005-06). Jones only had one long ball in his first season with the red-and-white in 2011, but cranked up the power in 2012, as he sent three balls out of Palm Springs Stadium.

Way of the Walk-Off
Wednesday's 8-7 victory over the Riverside Rebels marked the POWER's fourth walk-off win of the season and second of the week. Palm Springs also won in its final at-bat against the Inland Valley Pirates (June 14), the High Desert Heat (June 21) and the East LA Dodgers (July 7). The POWER are no strangers to walk-off wins having won 10 times in their last at-bat dating back to the 2010 season. Palm Springs had two such wins in the summer of 2012, a 4-3 thriller over the Diamond Valley Sabers in 12 innings, and a 3-2 victory over the East LA Dodgers in nine innings. In 2010, the POWER plated game-winning runs on three different occasions, including a 2-1 win over the Poway Thunder and a 4-3 victory over the Novato Knicks in back-to-back contests.

Fear the Fifth
The POWER lineup has unleashed an offensive onslaught in the fifth inning this season, using mid-game rallies to put their opponents to bed. Through 35 games, Palm Springs has scored more runs in the fifth than any other inning (48), and is outscoring opponents by 38 in the frame, the largest run differential for the POWER in any inning. The POWER have also scored multiple runs in the fifth inning 14 times. Their best fifth inning came on June 12 when they posted six runs against Team San Diego.

POWER & Team 1010 Join Forces Again
After a successful partnership in 2012, the Palm Springs POWER and Team 1010 KXPS are teaming up once again. Team 1010 will broadcast marquee weekend match-ups throughout the season, offering fans another way to follow the Coachella Valley's Hometown Team. This week, Sunday's contest against the Long Beach Elite will be available on Team 1010 KXPS.

PALM SPRINGS POWER COACHING STAFF

Manager: Harry Gurley

Harry is excited to begin his fifth season with the Palm Springs POWER. He will be returning to the post of manager for the 2013 season, a role in which he led the POWER to 2009, 2011 and 2012 SCCBL Championships. He has built a very distinguished coaching and scouting career at all levels, including professional, collegiate and high school. Most recently, Gurley was the pitching coach at Ohio State University for the 2006 & 2007 seasons. During that time, OSU led the Big Ten Conference in team ERA and had its first 10-game winner since 1999.

Prior to working at OSU, Gurley was an assistant coach at Southern Illinois when the Salukis finished second at the 1971 NCAA College World Series. He was also a high school head coach in Arizona, Texas, and Missouri. During those stints, Gurley won a Missouri state championship, was an Arizona state championship runner-up and won a Texas Regional Championship.

In 1984, he spent one season as manager of the Helena (Mont.) Gold Sox of the professional Pioneer League (Class A) and led them to the league championship. Gurley also spent several years as an associate scout for the Kansas City Royals and the St. Louis Cardinals.

With all of his coaching and managerial experience, it is no surprise that Gurley is familiar with the collegiate summer baseball circuit. In 1998, he was the pitching coach for the Nevada (Mo.) Griffins who won the Jayhawk Collegiate Baseball Summer League championship and finished second in the NBC Tournament in Wichita, Kan.

During Gurley's distinguished coaching career, he has worked with over 35 players who have played affiliated professional baseball, including 12 players who have made it all the way to the Major Leagues. Five of his prized pitching pupils have also been drafted in the 1st round of the MLB draft.

Assistant Coach: Jon Tatum

Jon Tatum joins the POWER coaching staff for the first time in 2013.

Tatum has spent the last two seasons as an assistant coach at the University of Arkansas, Pine Bluff of the Southwestern Athletic Conference.

He is no stranger to the collegiate summer league circuit, having spent 2012 coaching with the Alaska Goldpanners of the Alaska Baseball League.

Volunteer Assistant Coach: Mark Salazar

Mark Salazar joins the POWER coaching staff for the first time in 2013.

Salazar is the head coach at Desert Christian Academy. This season, he guided the Crusaders to a 29-2 record and league title.

POWER Baseball: A Decade in the Desert

The Palm Springs POWER Baseball Club was created in the summer of 2003 when Andrew Starke met with city officials and other prominent members of the Palm Springs business community.

After the meetings concluded, the 23-year-old Starke was convinced that Palm Springs and the Coachella Valley wanted and would support a baseball franchise. The first lease agreement between the POWER and the city was finalized later that year, and the revitalization of historic Palm Springs Stadium, the original spring training home of the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim, began.

The first POWER home game was played on Friday, June 4, 2004. Since then, the POWER have hosted 302 games heading into the 10th Anniversary season. The POWER play considerably more home games than road games because visiting teams prefer to play in the energetic atmosphere created on a nightly basis at Palm Springs Stadium. Since the POWER began play, teams have come from as far as Chicago and Denver to play in Palm Springs.

Ten years later, more than 300 collegiate baseball players coming from more than 115 colleges and universities have donned the POWER uniform. The team has won four conference championships and amassed a 317-93 record over that ten-year span. Seventy-five past POWER players have gone on to sign professional contracts after finishing their collegiate careers.

The POWER annually work with more than 150 different companies and have enjoyed partnerships with over 750 unique businesses since the 2004 season. Our entire organization feels privileged to be the Coachella Valley's Hometown Team and thanks you for all of your support over the past decade.
